

From incoming requirement to your next submission.

AI bench sales intelligence for IT staffing and C2C companies. Connect your requirements, structure your consultant profiles, and review relevant matches in one workflow.

FROM REQUIREMENT TO RTR

Less searching. More time for the next submission.

Instead of switching between vendor emails, job boards, and consultant profiles, give your team one connected matching workflow.

JobSeam brings together requirements from your connected mailbox and jobs from supported sources and markets. Your rep reviews the match before taking action.

- 01 Requirements arrive in your connected mailbox
- 02 JobSeam structures the requirement
- 03 Consultants are scored against the role
- 04 Your rep reviews ranked matches and skill gaps
- 05 Send a Right-to-Represent request and track activity

Your bench and your requirements, working together.

01 / FIND

Start with either side of the match.

Find consultants for a requirement, or relevant requirements for a consultant. Two-way matching is included in every plan.

02 / UNDERSTAND

Review the reason behind the score.

Compare exact and related skills, review gaps, and use resume parsing to turn consultant profiles into structured information.

03 / ACT

Move the conversation forward.

Use the RTR workflow and activity history to keep track of submissions and follow-ups across your team.
